Regulations – Membership of the Association

1 Background

Clause 4 of the Association’s Constitution empowers the Board to determine from time to time:

- (a) the class or classes of members of the Association;
- (b) entrance fees, subscriptions and other fees payable by members and the manner of payment;
- (c) qualifications for membership; and
- (d) any concessions, loadings, remissions and exemptions that may be provided by the Association to members or classes of members.

Clause 5 of the Association’s Constitution empowers the Board to determine from time to time:

- (a) the rights, privileges and obligations of members and classes of members; and
- (b) which class or classes of members are Eligible Members.

These regulations set out the Board’s current determination on the matters described above.

2 Classes of membership

The Board has determined that the Association’s membership consists of the classes of members set out in the “Classes of member” column in the Membership Table.

A person may be a member of the Association in one or more classes of membership. If a person qualifies as a member of more than one class of membership, the person is entitled to the rights and privileges, and is subject to the obligations and fees, applicable for all such classes.

3 Qualifications for membership

The Board has determined that, in order to be admitted as a member of the Association, a person must meet the qualification criteria set out in the “Qualifications for membership” column in the Membership Table.

If at any time a person remains a member of the Association (in a particular membership class), but no longer meets the qualifications for membership for that class, the rights and privileges of that member (as set out in the Membership Table) are suspended until such time as the member ceases to be a member, or again meets the qualifications for membership.

4 Qualifying Annuity Products

As set out in section 3 above and as noted in the Membership Table, to qualify as a “Full Member”, a person must, at that time, be the holder of a Qualifying Annuity Product.

The Board determines that the products issued by a member of the RAA Group as listed in Schedule 2 are Qualifying Annuity Products for the purpose of these regulations.
