

STAPLE
HERE

Total Distance 645 Kilometres

Strip maps show distances, roadside features and town facilities on a simple flip-over style map, which can be used in both directions. They're not drawn to scale.

Strip map features:

Cumulative distances

Located in the columns on either side of the map, they can be matched to your car's trip meter for a ready reference.

Intermediate distances

These show distances between points along the map.

Town facilities

Hotels, motels, post offices, caravan parks, fuel (in remote areas).

Narrative

Includes caution notes, road surface, a description of the country traversed, town narratives and populations.

Experiences & accommodation

If you are looking for experiences and accommodation during your road trip, visit our website satravel.raa.com.au, which offers member exclusive discounts on a range of experiences and accommodation across SA.

Legend

	Route Markers		Post Office		Bridge
	Hotel		Parking Bay		Overpass
	Motel		Rest Area		Railway Crossing
	Caravan Park		Windmill		Railway Station / Siding
	Accommodation		Airfield

via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy 645 Kilometres

Adelaide
96	Port Wakefield
216	120	Port Pirie
305	209	89	Port Augusta
485	389	269	180	Cowell
645	549	429	340	160	Port Lincoln

Adelaide to Port Lincoln

via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Adelaide to Port Lincoln via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Major Arterial Routes & Suburbs

This map is intended to aid planning - alternative maps should be used if more detail is needed.

SM-ADEL

0520

Adelaide to Port Lincoln via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Adelaide - Port Wakefield

96 kilometres
Route A1
Port Wakefield Road

Adelaide
(approximate population 1,295,710)

Located on the banks of the River Torrens, Adelaide is the capital of South Australia. Thanks to the foresight of Surveyor-General Colonel William Light, this well-designed city is blessed with wide roads and expansive park lands. Every year, the festivities and events of 'Mad March' attract thousands of visitors from around the world.

Two Wells
(approximate population 1,930)

The town is named after two natural wells that served as watering points for the Kaurna people and early settlers in the area.

Port Wakefield
(approximate population 560)

In the mid-1800s, Port Wakefield was a bustling harbour town, shipping out copper, wool and wheat. It's now a popular destination for recreational anglers, and an important service town for motorists travelling to Yorke Peninsula, Eyre Peninsula and the northern reaches of the state.

Country traversed

Mainly flat farmland. The small settlements of Lower Light, Dublin and Windsor are just beside the highway.

Road surface

Bitumen. Dual carriageway throughout.

SM0014

0520

Adelaide to Port Lincoln via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Port Wakefield - Port Pirie

120 kilometres
Route A1

Port Wakefield (approximate population 560)

In the mid-1800s, Port Wakefield was a bustling harbour town, shipping out copper, wool and wheat. It's now a popular destination for recreational anglers, and an important service town for motorists travelling to Yorke Peninsula, Eyre Peninsula and the northern reaches of the state.

Snowtown (approximate population 390)

Snowtown is the service centre for a productive wool and wheat producing district. The town's wind farm display includes 'The Big Blade' from a wind turbine. There are more than a hundred turbines dotted along the Barunga and Hummocks Ranges to the west.

Crystal Brook (approximate population 1,320)

Named in 1839 by explorer Edward John Eyre, after the watercourse on the northern edge of town, Crystal Brook is the service centre for the surrounding sheep and cereal farms. The Heritage Centre/Museum is housed in a former bakery, built in 1875, and is easily identified by the historic 'Rosella unrivalled pickles' sign painted on the side wall.

Port Pirie (approximate population 13,740)

Established in 1845, Port Pirie was South Australia's first provincial city. Initially a seaport for shipping agricultural produce, the discovery of silver and lead at Broken Hill saw the development of suitable port and smelting facilities. The city has one of the world's largest primary lead smelters. Telowie Gorge Conservation Park, in the southern Flinders Ranges, is 30km from town and 8km from the main highway. Staying the night? We recommend John Pirie Motor Inn.

Country traversed

Level to undulating farmland. The southern reaches of the Flinders Ranges can be seen between Crystal Brook and Port Augusta.

Road surface

Bitumen.

SM0015

0520

Adelaide to Port Lincoln via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Port Pirie - Port Augusta

89 kilometres
Route A1

Port Pirie (approximate population 13,740)

Established in 1845, Port Pirie was South Australia's first provincial city. Initially a seaport for shipping agricultural produce, the discovery of silver and lead at Broken Hill saw the development of suitable port and smelting facilities. The city has one of the world's largest primary lead smelters. Telowie Gorge Conservation Park, in the southern Flinders Ranges, is 30km from town and 8km from the main highway. Staying the night? We recommend John Pirie Motor Inn.

Port Germein (approximate population 310)

Once a major seaport, this tiny town is renowned for the length of its jetty. Opened in 1881, it was extended in 1883 to eventually stretch 1,676m out into Spencer Gulf. It was reputed to be the longest jetty in the southern hemisphere. Battered by storms over the years, it's been reduced to around 1,500m, which is still an impressive round trip of 3km.

Port Augusta (approximate population 12,900)

Port Augusta sits at a major crossroad for travellers heading east to west or south to north across the continent. The award-winning Wadlata Outback Centre has excellent exhibits and is a great introduction to the Flinders Ranges and Outback. Set in native bush beside the red cliffs at the very tip of the Gulf, the Australian Arid Lands Botanic Garden features a wide variety of desert plants. Staying the night? We recommend Majestic Oasis Apartments.

Country traversed

Mainly flat farming country. The southern Flinders Ranges can be seen to the east.

Road surface

Bitumen.

SM0016

0520

Adelaide to Port Lincoln via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Port Augusta - Cowell

180 kilometres
Route B100
Lincoln Highway

Port Augusta (approximate population 12,900)

Port Augusta sits at a major crossroad for travellers heading east to west or south to north across the continent. The award-winning Wadlata Outback Centre has excellent exhibits and is a great introduction to the Flinders Ranges and Outback. Set in native bush beside the red cliffs at the very tip of the Gulf, the Australian Arid Lands Botanic Garden features a wide variety of desert plants. Staying the night? We recommend Majestic Oasis Apartments.

Whyalla (approximate population 21,500)

The largest town on Eyre Peninsula, Whyalla was built on the back of its ship building and steel industries. The shipyards are long gone, but the locally built minesweeper, HMAS Whyalla, is a prize exhibit at the maritime museum. From May to August, snorkellers and scuba divers head for the waters of Spencer Gulf to witness the annual migration of the Australian Giant Cuttlefish.

Cowell (approximate population 990)

Located on the shores of Franklin Harbour, the town is popular with holiday makers, recreational fishermen and oyster lovers. Discovered in 1965, the nephrite jade deposits near Cowell are among the largest in the world.

Country traversed

Farmlands and mallee scrub. Level to undulating terrain.

Road surface

Bitumen.

Adelaide to Port Lincoln

via Port Wakefield Rd and Lincoln Hwy

Cowell - Port Lincoln

160 kilometres
Route B100
Lincoln Highway

Cowell (approximate population 990)

Located on the shores of Franklin Harbour, the town is popular with holiday makers, recreational fishermen and oyster lovers. Discovered in 1965, the nephrite jade deposits near Cowell are among the largest in the world.

Tumby Bay (approximate population 1,420)

Tumby Bay is a popular seaside holiday town and the centre of a wheat growing and sheep grazing district. Recreational anglers can fish from the town jetty or launch from the marina. The jetty is also a hot spot for divers, who occasionally bump into elusive leafy sea dragons. While you're in town, be sure to check out Martin Ron's magnificent silo art.

Port Lincoln (approximate population 14,060)

Located on the shores of glorious Boston Bay - which is three times bigger than Sydney Harbour - Port Lincoln was briefly in the mix to be capital of South Australia. The city's marina is home to one of Australia's largest commercial fishing fleets. Prawns, mussels and crayfish are the catch of the day, but the industry is particularly famous for its high-quality southern bluefin tuna, which is farmed in Port Lincoln. If you're keen to meet some underwater locals, Port Lincoln is one the few places in the world where you can cage dive among great whites. Organised 'swimming with sea lions' experiences are also available. Lincoln National Park offers stunning coastal scenery, and experienced 4WD enthusiasts can tackle the Park's vast Wanna dunefield. Staying the night? We recommend Port Lincoln Hotel.

Country traversed

Level to undulating farmlands. The coastal villages of Arno Bay and Port Neill are only a short distance from the highway.

Road surface

Bitumen.

SM0021

0520